

Is your Home and Living Environment the sanctuary you dream of?

The application of Feng Shui philosophies can be a very powerful tool to support happy and healthy living and in many cases, blissful living. To find a Feng Shui consultant who can really help you to transform the energy of your living or working environment could be an intuitive decision more than anything. Every consultant is unique due to their experience and areas where they are most gifted.

I work closely with clients, giving them practical advice to help them make changes that support them now and into the future. This can prove to be a dream come true for you, and that is what I love to hear from clients who have proven results in the most important areas of life.

Feng Shui For Harmony is a service based business with a wealth of deeply valuable information and a complete understanding of why energies become imbalanced. The practical tools to support change are more effective than can be explained in words. I use earth healing to make the Feng Shui treatment more effective.

What is Feng Shui?

Feng Shui is referred to as the ancient Chinese art of placement, and has been practised for thousands of years. Its underlying purpose is to enable people to enjoy happiness, health and prosperity and to live in harmony with their environment, by balancing the Chi, or unseen energies, of their home or workplace and its surroundings. The five elements - water, wood, fire, earth, metal - exist in two cycles, the creative and the controlling, and are used in Feng Shui to maximise the flow of beneficial Chi throughout any building and to minimise negative forces. Each part of a building relates to a different aspect of the occupants' lives, which can be enhanced using Feng Shui.

Feng Shui

Every aspect of living is contained within a building.

Feng shui allocates a sector of the building to each aspect, so an imbalance in an area of your life will be reflected in the energy of the sector. Some buildings have missing areas that correspond with weakened aspects of life.

Unresolved issues that concern you are usually interwoven with each other, and when you deal with one and act to change it, it has a beneficial flow-on effect in other areas that have been challenging you.

WATER

Feng Shui literally means “wind and water”. Water placement can be used to enhance the energies both inside a building and in its external environment. Water is considered to bring good fortune when placed in the garden according to ancient Form principles, and inside a building it can be positioned in a similar way or with consideration of the changes over time that affect it (Flying Stars).

The direction and force of the flow of water are crucial; water represents wealth and if it flows away from a building can cause loss rather than gain.

Feng Shui theory is in essence based on the Yin/Yang duality and the Chinese 5 elements - Water, Wood, Fire, Earth and Metal. These interact constantly and produce changes in universal energy, at differing rates according to the innate properties of substances.

Yang energy is more active and dynamic and produces more obvious change than Yin energy, which is associated with retention. A healthy environment consists of a balance between the two forces.

What to expect in a consultation

Each consultation is unique, as each property is unique - I choose the methods of analysis and treatment that will be of greatest benefit to you personally or which are specifically appropriate to your business.

Therefore I do not follow one model of consultation for either Feng Shui or Geomancy, but there are common features you can expect when I come to your home or business.

Your initial phone call or email gives me an outline of your living or working situation and your reason for the consultation. You provide me with essential details (including dates of birth so I can prepare Ming Gua (Destiny Number) astrology for the people who live or work with you), and a floor plan/mud map at the consultation..

Healing/Cleansing/Renewal Services

Dowsing of the earth energies to locate geopathic stress and other negative forces that affect you and the property.

Earth healing to clear the negative energies, the methods chosen specifically for your property. Space clearing as required using a combination of techniques.

Services Offered

(a) Assessment of your home and land.

You receive information and guidance to make your home a living sanctuary. You may have a few blocks that need assistance and we look at the aspects that are draining energy or not supporting you and your family.

(b) Your small business premises.

Information and guidance on how to make your business more successful. This service is tailored to your personal requirements to experience a balanced and supportive environment to work within.

(c) Siting of home/ office on land.

Location of the most auspicious placement for your future prosperity and good fortune. Analysis of plans according to building's orientation and your Ming Gua (personal destiny number) astrology.

(d) Pre-purchase inspection of house and land.

Check whether the property will support you into the future and if its energy is in tune with yours.

Home Harmony Service. Feng Shui.

Comprehensive Feng Shui Consultation, using classical and modern Feng Shui methods to analyse the energies and suggest adjustments. Includes guidance on specific areas of concern.

Space Clearing, Home Cleansing & Earth Healing.

Using geomancy to heal the earth around your home and cleanse inside your home. Comprehensive Consultation and guidance. Allows new energy and harmony and affects relationships, health and productivity in very positive ways. A must for those who feel that their home has lost that lovely, peaceful or light energy feeling. Assists sleeping problems and stress or worry.

Feng Shui Services

Feng Shui analysis using classical and modern principles including Form School, 8 Mansions (Ba Zhai), Flying Star (Fei Xing), and Destiny Number (Ming Gua) astrology.

Discussion of issues of concern and suggestions for balancing the energies in the relevant sectors.

The influence of the current year's energies that enhance or detract from your property's chi (life force), and methods of balancing them.

A verbal report during the consultation process, and you are welcome to take notes or record as we go. If you would like a written summary please allow an hour's fee.

As each consultation is a unique process in which you and I deal with your property and the connections between your living or working situation and the environment around you, there will inevitably be differences in the timing and effectiveness of results.

My responsibility is to present you with the information and tools to assist you with making changes that are intended to improve the quality of your life.

Feng Shui is not a "quick fix" - although beneficial results can happen very quickly, even instantaneously - nor is it a recipe for permanent and complete harmony, as everything in the universe is constantly changing.

Through Feng Shui you are given tools and understandings that help you "go with the flow" of life so you can make the most of your circumstances. Feng Shui is not a process to heal individuals, it is a method of assisting greater harmony and balance through energy flow.

My passion is to give my clients tools and information to support their most blissful living experience.

Sarah Glasson

If you have any questions or require more information, please contact me at sarahglasson@bigpond.com

I give you my sacred guarantee that any information you give me will be treated with complete confidentiality. I will not share any of your personal details, including your email address, with any person or organisation.